

The Artist Among Us is...

Martin Culpepper is a 20-year-old wildlife photographer who has been photographing wildlife in New England since he was 12. Wildlife has been his main focus in life until he decided to take up photography in addition to looking for wildlife. Ever since that day, wildlife photography has been his passion. He strives to photograph wild animals in their environments in aesthetically pleasing ways, as well as using his work to help support wildlife conservation efforts.
